

Never Bound By Time

©Tim Harrison and Second Avenue Songs 2004

It's not for the beauty of your breast my love
When I bury my head there
And it's not for the beauty of your face my love
Where I am bound to stare
It's not for the beauty of your arms my love
As with each other we entwine
And it's not for the beauty of your hands my love
When they're gently held in mine

And it's not for the flowing of your hair my love
As it ripples down your skin
And it's not for the oceans of your eyes my love
That I always drown within

{Chorus}

But it's for the beauty of your soul my love
For your grace and heart and mind
It's what's outside the senses love
That is never bound by time

And it's not for the beauty of your thighs my love
So sweet and warm and tender
And it's not for the sounds of your sighs my love
When together we surrender

Chorus